FROM THE WALLS.....

Well, things have gotten back to normal around here after the holidays with WOW and the Wednesday night program resuming their normal schedules. And, Mr. Cecil resumed his catering for which I am extremely grateful! That meat loaf was fantastic!

I like to listen to the choir practice so I was hiding in the nursery Sunday morning when I heard a commotion. I peeked my head out the door and there was a group of people herding a big brownish monster toward the door. The children were excited about a dog coming to church, but I wasn't - although a dog is better than a cat.

We had another of Mr. B. R.'s "old-time religion" services Sunday when something happened to the screen. Boy, was there ever a lot of scrambling for song books?!!

The Session was in their meeting a long time last Wednesday when they met to finalize the budget for 2005. I hope they voted on enough money to keep me in cheese this year!

Change may be inevitable, as Rev. Russ said Sunday, but one thing that never changes is the tranquility, peace, and reassurance of God's love I feel each time I partake of the Lord's Supper.

Speaking of change reminds me of the story of the butterfly who was asked how to become a butterfly, He answered, 'You must want to fly so much that you are willing to give up being a caterpillar.' And then went on to say, "Life is changed, not taken away."
